BIG Foundation NGO

objective and purpose

Agreed that many NGO are working in a field all over India. Many of them doing good work but still India is wide spread land with enormous population. There are still many pockets in various states of India which is devoid of any help, may it be Education, Health or it may be employment. We are working in one of such pockets ie Murbad in thane district of Maharashtra.

women empowerment

Be In Group Foundation offering vocational training in fields like tailoring, handicrafts, and digital skills for Women empowerment. Be In Group Foundation also focus on building skills of women for economic independence, entrepreneurship, and leadership. Examples include government schemes like the STEP Initiative and Mahila Shakti Kendra, corporate programs like the Empowering Women Entrepreneurs (EWE) program.

Tribal child development

Tribal child development in Mumbai and Thane district is approached through integrated initiatives focusing on education, health, nutrition, and skill development, often facing challenges in implementation due to poor infrastructure, cultural insensitivity, and poverty. Key interventions include ashram residential schools, Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS) for healthcare and nutrition, and programs to promote cultural knowledge and environmental stewardship alongside formal education.

Women empowerment by:

- 1 Homemade business
- 2 Small scale industries
- 3 Availability of employment

the process of giving women power and control over their lives through equal access to education, employment, and decision-making, enabling them to be independent and break free from societal constraints. It is vital for social and economic development, as it promotes gender equality and helps build a stronger, more prosperous society for everyone.

Saving Lives Be In Group Foundation provide emergency medical care, clean water, and food to those in urgent need. Whether it's disaster relief, life-saving surgeries, or critical healthcare support, your donation can help people survive difficult situations. Key points of proposed work:

- 4 Financial aid
- 5 Small saving units
- 6 Independent business women

Cultural programs

Cultural programs conducted by Be IN Group Foundation for women focus on women's empowerment, promoting their cultural and social rights through skill development, arts, education, and community engagement. Initiatives include skill-based workshops for artisans, dance and drama performances celebrating women's artistic traditions, and educational programs addressing issues like poverty and leadership. These programs aim to foster women's agency, access to opportunities, and full participation in cultural life.

These events provide a platform for female artists and performers to showcase their talents, share their stories, and highlight the unique cultural contributions of women to society.

Health care differ

Rural and urban healthcare differ significantly in infrastructure, workforce, access, and health outcomes, with urban areas generally having advanced facilities and a greater concentration of specialists, while rural areas often suffer from shortages of providers, limited resources, and longer travel times for care. These disparities lead to poorer health indicators in rural populations, such as higher rates of infant and maternal mortality, though urban areas face challenges like overcrowding and inequality within their systems.

Educational programs

Educational programs Free tuition classes for school going children
Expert help in sports activities with Help of School PT teacher.
Help them to increase there vocabulary and confidence with training. Science , research specialist will try to create interest for these subjects and boost children in respective fields as per student interest.

“We organized hygiene, stationery, and grocery kit distribution camps. This year, we reached over a thousand underprivileged families in the Thane and Raigad districts.

We need your support for the Rainbow 2026 donation drive to reach more million families.

Let's celebrate the New Year with purpose, share hope, and spread smiles. We are confident that with your support and donations, we will reach 10,00,000 underprivileged families by next year”
